examples have to be made out of people convicted on corruption charges and the legal process in such cases has to be expedited. In addition, with changes in economic policy regime, regulatory bodies that guide and monitor the functioning of the relevant economic agents, lays down the rules of conduct in the interest of consumers and devises such practices that help in efficient functioning of the system will have to be established in many sectors of the economy that are now being opened up. At the same time, social monitoring through empowered, autonomous and credible structures will have to be established even for the highest of the public offices. Right to information has to be the starting point for some of these changes.

Poor performance by States

†998. SHRI MOTILAL VOHRA: Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

(a) the States whose performance has been poor in respect of implementation of Ninth Five Year Plan;

(b) the implementation percentage of Ninth five Year Plan by each State;

(c) the reasons for such poor implementation;

(d) the action being taken by Government against such States; and

(e) if not the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF PLANNING (SHRIMATI VASUNDHARA RAJE): (a) and (b) Statement indicating financial performance of States in respect of implementation of Ninth Five Year Plan viz. per cent of anticipated expenditure to revised outlay during the Ninth Plan is attached. (See below)

(c) to (e) While overally performance of States was fairly good as indicated, the main reasons for shortfall in realisation of projected Ninth Plan Outlays by many States was the inability of these States to mobilize financial resources as projected States are encouraged during plan discussions to increase mobilisation of their resources.

†Original notice of the question was received in Hindi.
